Menominee Tribal Enterprises is committed to excellence in the sustainable management of our forest, and the manufacturing of our forest products and lumber -- providing consistently superior wood products while serving the needs of our forest, employees, customers, tribal community and future generations.

The Menominee are “Woodlands People” and the longest continuous residents of the geographic area now called the state of Wisconsin.

Although we thrived in a vast expanse of these ancestral woodlands during pre-Columbian times, the Menominee people now reside on our reservation land which was formed in 1854. More than 150 years ago our tribal leaders recognized that the future of our people is dependent upon the forest and embarked on a course of sustained yield forest management.

Menominee culture and tradition teaches us never to take more resources than are produced within natural cycles so that all life can be sustained.

Simply put, the Menominee made a commitment to harvest timber at a pace that never exceeds the forest’s ability to replace the harvest. In a real sense, this is a commitment to future generations to live only on the ‘interest’ and never draw down on the ‘principal’ integrity and diversity of the forest.

Sustainable Integrity
